RAYMOND SWOPE

It is with sincere appreciation, that we, the graduating class of 1940, dedicate this, the sixteenth volume of the "No-Ca-Hi" to our teacher and advisor, Raymond Swope. In this very small measure we wish to repay in part our debt to him, for the six long years he has labored unceasingly, given unselfishly of his time that the ambitions of a new class might be realized.

Senior Autographs

Dear Seniors:

Here we are at the end of our Senior year and what a grand time we have had! Do you remember how expectantly we looked forward to our four years in high school? There were ninety-two in our Freshman class. Four boys went out for basketball, and five for football. Our first year in high school was climaxed by the Freshman Sophomore party where we were all very thoroughly initiated.

And then the Sophomore year — we did feel wise, didn't we? — at the Freshman Sophomore party; perhaps it was because, at last, we were on the giving instead of the receiving end. The main event in the spring was the annual operetta in which our class was well represented.

By the time we were Juniors our class enrollment had dwindled to eighty-four. The Junior play, "The Saturday Evening Ghost," was presented by the class after many trying hours of rehearsal. It was a grand play and we were proud of the cast. This was the year that No. 11 won the Ohio State Championship in basketball. There were four boys in our class that went to Columbus, including one who gained the title of All State Star. The class members sold everything from candy to pens and pencils to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. It was held at Congress Lake Country Club and was the high light of the school year.

Seniors at last! — and the largest class to graduate from North Canton High. A good many loyal Senior players helped to make our basketball and football teams a success. Following the lead of last year's graduating class, we presented a senior play, "Moonshine and Honey-suckle." It afforded us a great deal of pleasure, and everyone who helped with this production should be congratulated. We all had a grand time at the Junior-Senior Banquet, May 23. Thank you, Juniors.

To our faithful advisor, Mr. Swope, we extend our heart-felt thanks for all his help and kindness shown and we wish him many more champion athletic achievements in years to come.

In our minds will always linger the memory of our friend and classmate, Clark Holben, who was so suddenly taken from our midst.

And so we bid our Senior year good bye. Farewell, old friends, you've been wonderful.

Sincerely,

Betty June Johnston.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1940, being of sound body and mind, do hereby solemnly affirm that this is our last will and testament, and do hereby see fit to distribute our wealth as follows:

- ITEM I—We leave to the teachers, whom we have obeyed so meekly, the opportunity of molding the future classes
- ITEM II—Jim Jester, senior class president, wills his gavel to ?????
- ITEM III—To the Juniors, we will the Seniors' dignity
- ITEM IV—Virginia Warstler gives her magnetism for men to Mary Warburton
- ITEM V—Sterling Pollock's athletic ability to Raymond Schlemmer
- ITEM VI—The Seniors will their love affairs to whom it may concern
- ITEM VII—Bill Shorb's permanent wave to Lawrence Bishop
- ITEM VIII—Chewing gum, papers, and candy wrappers, to the Student Council
- ITEM IX—All our demerits to the Sophomores
- ITEM X—George Lindenberger wills his technique to Dick Waltenbaugh
- ITEM XI—To the school much in need of a good laugh we will John Beckert's wit
- ITEM XII—Tom Hurlburt's "pull" with the teachers to Martin Surbey
- ITEM XIII—Wilbur Givler's bashfulness to Dale Holl
- ITEM XIV—Eleanor Rubright's ability to "blitz" to Jean Moore (not that she needs it)
- ITEM XV—To Bob Sommer we give Bob Ginther's height
- ITEM XVI—To future basketball teams we will an imposing array of senior stars such as we had this year
- ITEM XVII—Bob McCue's French to Dick DeMuesy
- ITEM XVIII—Jean Curry's "secret dates" to Patty Schaeffer
- ITEM XIX—Wilma Harper's "petite form" to Marjorie Festerly
- ITEM XX—Paul Ebner's violin to Rubinoff
- ITEM XXI—Glauda Miesmer's "primping" to Helen Kolp
- ITEM XXII—Ed Harding's "dancing feet" to Charles Hoare
- ITEM XXIII—Red Wise's "carrot top" to Ralph Saylor
- ITEM XXIV—Bill Ashbaugh wills to Herb his ability to make his girl mad
- ITEM XXV—Dick Kintz leaves his ability to remain a bachelor to other "smart" men
- ITEM XXVI—Mr. Swope wills to some deserving three year old boy, the hand of Judy
- ITEM XXVII—Betty June's acting ability (?) to anyone who wants it
- ITEM XXVIII—Last but not least, we leave to some deserving class, one of our most prized possessions, our class advisor, Mr. Swope

To this do we hereby affix our seal on this fourth day of March, nineteen hundred and forty, to be executed by our administrator, Mr. Trachsel.

The Vikings experienced a very successful season this year with 23 victories and their only defeat handed them by Canfield's 'unorthodox' tactics in the district final. The 'fall of the Vikings' ended a winning streak of 45 straight games, and although they did not bring back the championship cup, we are very proud of their record and the County Championship Trophy. On the All-Ohio Class "B" team Sterling Pollock won a berth as guard, and William Ashbaugh received honorable mention.

STUDENT COUNCIL

OFFICERS

President	-	-	-	-	-	Richard Kintz
Vice President	-	-	-	-	-	Thomas Hurlburt
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	Lawrence Bishop

In the second year of the Student Council Plan, accomplishments proved to be successful in the Council's program of betterment for the school.

In its constructive program, the Student Council had charge of the Monitor system, enforced proper pedestrian crossings, and carried on an anti gum chewing campaign.

Its social activities were the Thanksgiving dance, the student assembly, and a spring dance.

Next year with the cooperation of the teachers and the student body we hope to have an even better year.

BAND

The North Canton High School Band is really stepping right along. During basketball season they were kept busy making up and learning stunts to use at the half of all the home varsity games. They were quite well received and very much enjoyed

Most of the band members attended the Ohio State Band Concert in Canton, February 21, and also the Stark County Music Festival in May.

As a result of their excellent work this year and last year, they received an invitation from the World's Fair Administration to go there in a body this summer to show their musical ability

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Last year the Girls' Glee Club set a high goal for us to shoot at this year. They sang their way into an "excellent" rating at the Glee Club Contest at Kent, which entitled them to enter the Glee Club Contest at Columbus. Of course, they made the trip and sang their way into a "superior" rating and a State Championship in the State Glee Club Contest. With the much needed support of many interested persons, they were able to make the trip to Anderson, Indiana for the National Glee Club Contest. Here they again made a rating of "excellent," putting them second place in the National Contest of Glee Clubs.

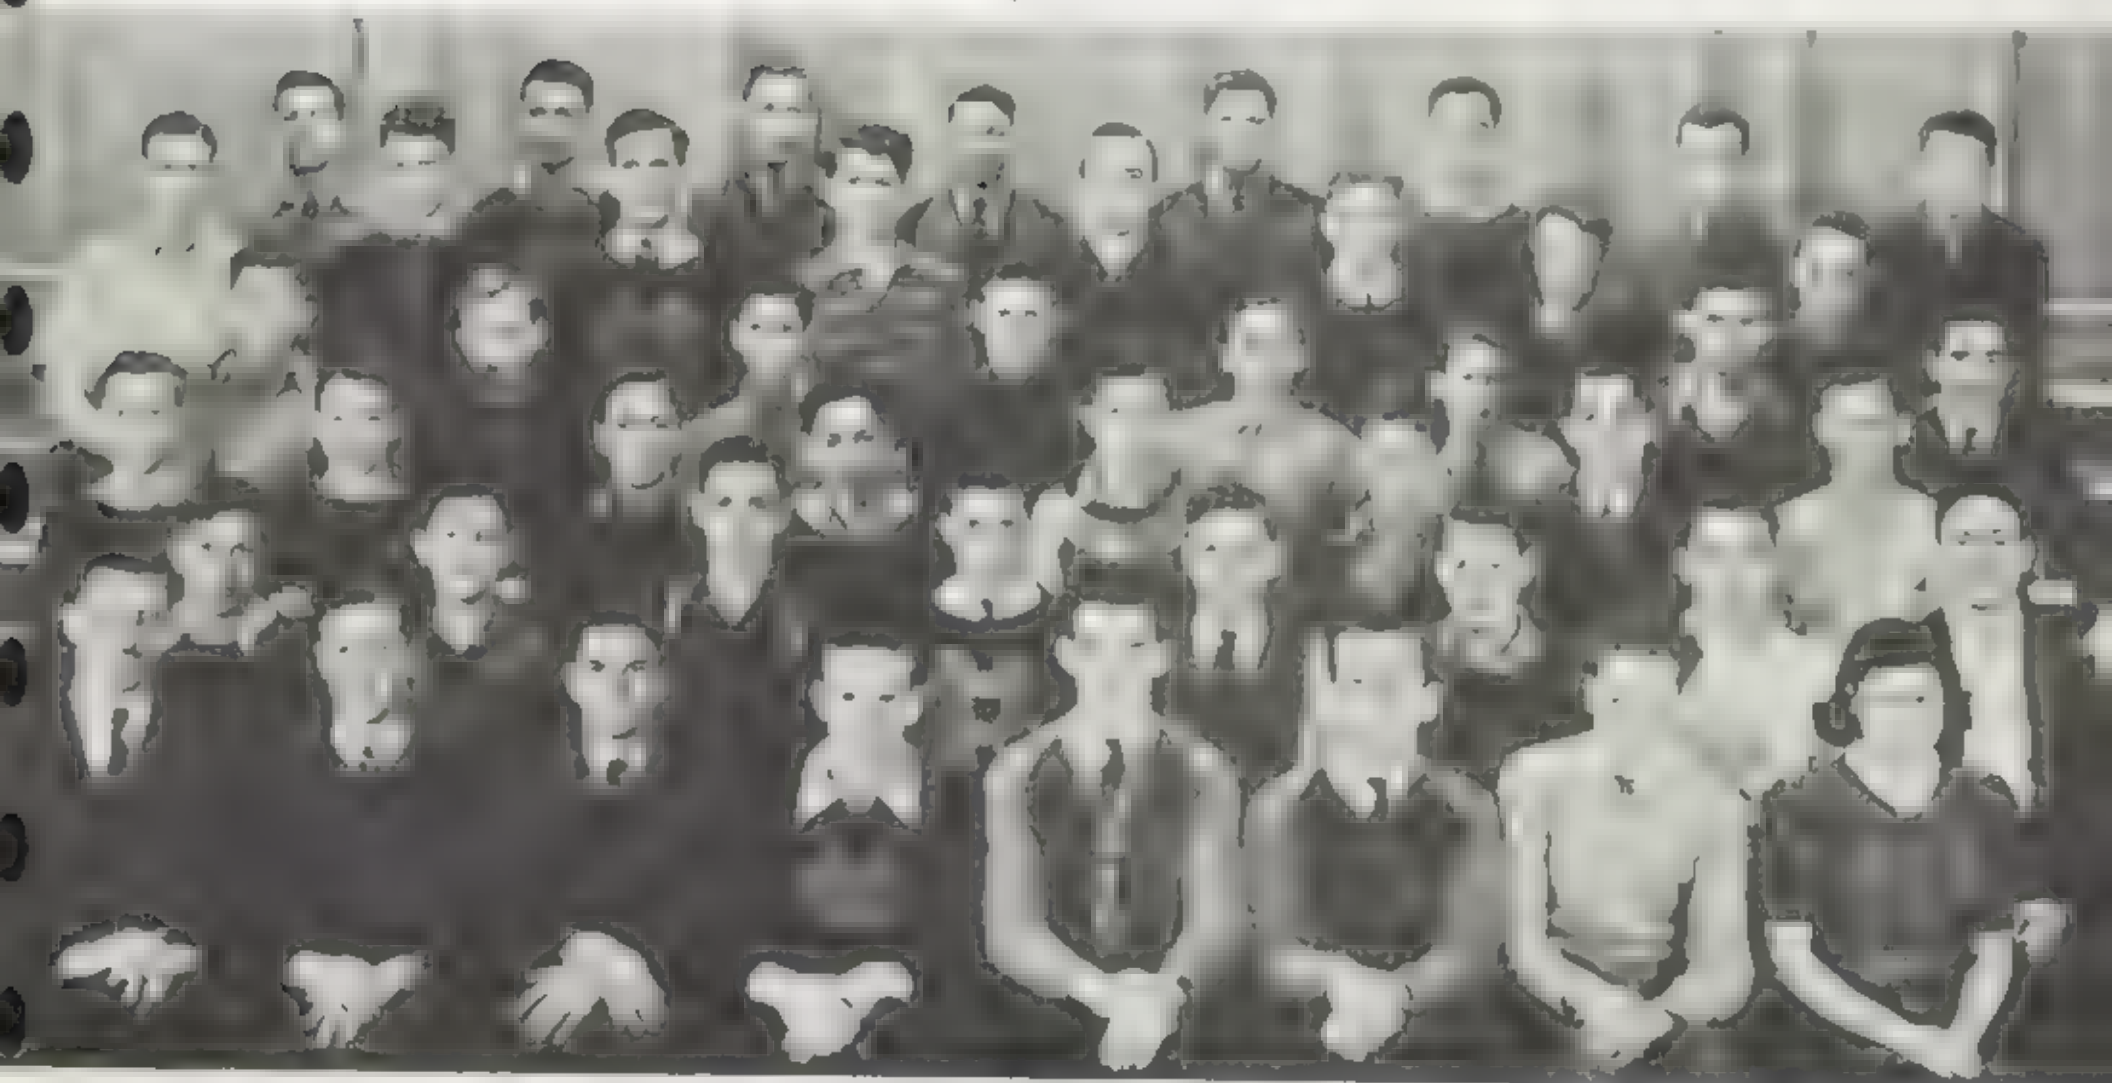

This year they again went to Kent and came through with a very nice rating and kept on working with the goal of both Columbus and Bay City, Michigan in view.

Besides this contest the girls sang at several concerts and at the Christmas program. Late in the spring the girls performed at the annual musicale, and late in April, broadcasted over Station WHBC. The Annual Stark County Music Festival wound up another quite successful year under the leadership of Mr. Hammond.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

This year the boys worked hard to attain the record set last year by the girls and they made a grand attempt. They again entered the District Music Contest at Kent and came through with quite a satisfactory rating. Considering the fact that this is their second year in the contest, the record is very commendable.

In December, the boys sang at the annual Christmas program and at the P.-T. A. where they were well received. At the annual Musicales, the boys performed remarkably well and made a broadcast for the first time at the invitation of Station WHBC. They also participated at the Stark County Music Festival in May.

Question for Debate Resolved—that the United States government should own and control the railroads

With the return of only one of the members of last year's varsity squad, the team started the year with a slight disadvantage in its lack of experience. At the tournament at Struthers, this became evident with the Negative and Affirmative teams each winning only one out of four debates. With each contest giving them more experience, they showed much improvement in the tournament at Ravenna, with the Negative winning four out of four and the Affirmative two out of four. At the Stark County Tournament, held here at the High School, the Affirmative won two contests out of five and the Negative four out of five. We are looking forward to a bigger and better debate squad next year.

LITERARY CONTEST

North Canton was represented in quality rather than in quantity at Canton Twp. High on Friday, Feb. 23. Six students came home with flying colors, two having received superior ratings, and four, excellent plus

Martha Jean Oberlin received superior plus for her drum solo while Jane Glass held superior rating for her offering of "Kamenoi-Ostrow" by Rubenstein.

A brass quartet played the "Torch Dance" by Ed. German and came through with an excellent plus. The quartet was composed of Ralph Saylor, Arnet Jaberg, Glenn Wehl and George Schick

On Feb. 3, at the Stark County Tournament held here, three students of No-Ca-Hi entered the Declamation Contest. James Jester gave an oration entitled "The Blight of Idleness," receiving for it a place among the seven finalists. Charles Haverstock's oration and Alberta Hancy's dramatic reading eliminated them from the contest, but nevertheless, their work deserved a good hand. These students are all to be commended for their efforts and fine accomplishments.

THE CLAY'S THE THING

In their room at Notre Dame, Luke and Jack, who has discovered a beauty clay, persuade Jerry, against his will, to enter the Atlantic City Beauty Contest. Before they leave for the trip, Uncle Dudley arrives unexpectedly at the dorm and finds in his nephew's bedroom, Jerry (Aldine) dressed in a flimsy negligee and blonde wig.

At the Brigg's summer cottage in Atlantic City where Millie has left to marry her Harold, Mary arrives with Jessie, who enters the beauty contest. The three boys came too. The Clayton Farmers, interested in the Brigg's Beautifier Corp., arrived to buy some stock while Tom Deems, Dudley's friend, came for important reasons. When Aunt Sarah learns of all this, she becomes hysterical, and decides Marv should be the maid. Ten people for three bedrooms is a problem finally solved by Geraldine sleeping with Aunt Sarah.

At breakfast, Geraldine's hat and wig yanked off reveals that . . . "she's a he!" Jessie becomes Miss America and also Mrs. Jack Norman, and Luke finds he loves Millie—her Harold wasn't there! Jerry finds sympathy and love in Mary, too. This matrimonial bureau changed into a joyous quietness. After the dignified Farmers left in a rage, they returned peacefully to settle their deal with Dudley who, by now has bought Jack's beauty clay. As the curtain fell on this gay comedy, everyone was assured that "The Clay's the Thing!"

THE MISSING WITNESS

The action of this melodrama is laid in a courtroom picturing the trial of Helen Montgomery for the murder of Henry Kellogg. Helen, with a smoking revolver in her hand, was discovered in Kellogg's office beside his dead body, lying unconscious on the floor. Questioned by police who had been called to the scene of the murder, she admitted the killing and willingly signed a confession to that effect. Robert Crandal, her fiancée, was quite convinced of her innocence, and being a lawyer, prevailed upon her to plead not guilty of the charge. It becomes quite evident as the trial progresses that Helen is trying to shield someone. It develops that this someone is Alice Raymond, a young society girl, who seems to have a very mysterious connection with the case. These circumstances are as baffling to Crandal as they are to the audience for Helen will tell nothing.

Meanwhile, the State and the Defense are searching frantically for Alice to clear up the case, but she has disappeared. In spite of Crandal's efforts to have her tell the truth, Helen still maintains that she is the murderess. At a very dramatic moment Alice Raymond, the missing witness, makes her appearance at the trial, and from there on the play approaches a most sensational and speedy climax which really brought the house down.

The duel of words between Crandal, Defense Attorney, and Barkley, the Prosecuting Attorney, makes a very brilliant theme. The play was a decided success under the very able direction of Mr. Miller and Mr. Schneider. The Junior Class wishes to express its appreciation to all those who had a part in this, their successful production.

THE SCENE: A tynical mountain cabin in the Kentucky and Tennessee mountains.

MOONSHINE AND HONEYSUCKLE

In the mountains of Kentucky on a certain June evening, Clem Betts and Buck Gaddis, two boyhood friends, discover with surprise that they are both in love with the same girl. Now ordinarily, under these conditions, mountaineers would shoot it out on the spot, but not so with Clem Betts, whose peace-loving nature brings him to letting Annie Bevins choose for herself. But when Annie does make her choice of Buck Gaddis, an old family feud rises between the two families and then the trouble begins. Kind-hearted Clem, hoping to settle the quarrel, sends off Annie and Buck to be married.

But there he made his big mistake, in not reckoning with old Peg leg Gaddis and his fiery-tempered niece, Cracker. Before Clem realizes it, he is in the midst of the feud with both families out to get his hide. Pink Freeze and Piney Hyatt lend humor to the situation with their love troubles. Piney, the man-hungry type, thinks Clem is just bashful in not having proposed to her, but when he still hasn't in the end—and she just can't see why—she goes ahead and marries a Jewish peddler and settles down to support him for the rest of her life.

Gypsy Carter refuses to marry Pink, a widower with a young son to care for, so he decides to go farther back into the hills where he can get a wife in exchange for a cow or two.

In the meantime, Cracker has changed sides and is now helping Clem to try to stay out of the feud. She succeeds by the time the feud is over. Peg leg's friendship is won by Clem when he presents him with a new jointed wooden leg to replace the one he had accidentally splintered with buck shot. In return for this gift, Peg leg agrees not to feud if Clem should just happen to want to marry Cracker. Clem wants to, so takes advantage of the opportunity.

In the production of this remarkable play, the cast wishes to express their appreciation to their directors, Mr. Miller and Mr. Swope for their efforts and fine coaching to that cause.

On January 3, 1940, a group of North Canton High School students, with Mr. Franz as advisor, established the No-Ca-Hi Radio Club, Station WNCH, as an aid to vocational training.

The club's service to the student body is threefold

First—it helps the members gain experience and confidence in speaking into the "mike."

Second—it may also help undecided students to determine their vocation.

Third—it helps to keep the student body well informed on current events

This comparatively new club, responsible for those popular interviews, and regular news broadcasts is sure to progress and become a more essential extra curricular activity.
